_Spotted Grass Frogs, Laratinga Wetland (John Tudor, 17.09.2008 07:06 Australia/South, 80sec)

Recording of Spotted Grass Frogs in the Laratinga Wetlands at Mt Barker, South Australia.
Recorded using Schoeps M/S (4/8) into a Sound Devices 702 CF recorder.
Recorded at about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday 17th September 2008. Sunny, fine approx. 20 degrees C. This recording was for the Frog Survey that occurs every September.
There is a road about 40 metres behind the microphones and at this time of the day there is a constant passing of cars & trucks. About 1.5 km further back is the South Eastern Freeway.
The recording is a 'quiet' section of a much longer one.

_Horses in Hahndorf - Update (John Tudor, 01.04.2009 00:55 Australia/South, 133sec)

Today, I went for one of the first official rides after they were approved by Department of Transport. The original recording (just up the street) was of a 'walk past' but today I had the microphone mounted just to the left of the driver. It's sad to see how impatient car drivers are. At one stage more than a half dozen cars overtook us on the left where the footpath was wide enough for them to fit. (we drive on the left over here) One towing a trailer had to speed up to make it through a gap to avoid colliding with a sign. In the process he cut off the horses to get back onto the road. It's a very pleasant way to see the street, although, at 5kph, I couldn't see myself riding the 40km to Adelaide.

This is also the first recording using my new Rode NT4. I like the ease of use of a stereo microphone over a stereo pair, particularly in situations in the 'wild' like this.

_Hahndorf Marching Band (John Tudor, 09.05.2009 06:37 Australia/South, 95sec)

Battle of the bands in Hahndorf today. I missed the first band to march through but was just in time to catch the home town band. Unfortunately there was only the two bands this year.
Hahndorf lost to Mitcham Town Band by just one point in both the marching and stage judging. Maybe next year.....

_Victoria Square Fountain, 7:00pm Clock Bells (John Tudor, 01.09.2008 18:31 Australia/South, 135sec)

Victoria Square in the centre of Adelaide, South Australia. The main fountain is turned off at night leaving just a small bubbling waterfall. The clock in the Post Office tower strikes 7:00pm. A tram leaves the stop and heads north along King William Street. Other traffic travels the road, still wet from recent rain.

Recorded with Schoeps M/S and collapsed to Mono.

_Flags Near Wharf (John Tudor, 23.03.2009 17:19 Europe/Berlin, 73sec).

While at Middleton for a few days, Kerry & I stopped in at Goolwa. Since it was a bit too windy for recording anything quiet, I decided to try recording the blowing flags outside the Goolwa Information Centre.

Between vehicles driving into the car park, just to the right of the flags, and over the nearby Hindmarsh Island bridge, I managed to get some usable sound.

sidorjak@gmail.com, 22.01.2009 03:00 US/Hawaii, 313sec)

sound of Coqui's -tree frogs- recorded in February 2008 on east side of Big Island Hawaii ... Ten years ago they still weren't at this location, to my knowledge they are spread now throughout the island and treated as a pest...it is interesting to realise how fast a sound can ended up being a landmark, associated with certain location
